

Alberto Brugnoli is full professor in Applied Economics (SECS-P/06) at the University of Bergamo, Bergamo, Italy. Since 03/22 Delegate for International Cooperation in Developing Countries, University of Bergamo and UNESCO Chairholder of the UNESCO Chair on “Human Rights, International Cooperation and Sustainable Development” always at the University of Bergamo. Since 10/18 President of the master’s degree Program in Human Rights, Migration and International Cooperation, University of Bergamo, Bergamo, Italy and Member of the Board of Directors and Scientific Committees of several institutions and of the International Advisory Board of the Cambridge Journal of Regions, Economy and Society.