

Nicola d'Avanzo is a postdoctoral researcher at University G. D'Annunzio of Chieti-Pescara. He obtained his PhD degree at University Magna Græcia of Catanzaro, in 2020, under the supervision of Professor Massimo Fresta. He also joined the University of Helsinki as visiting researcher in 2019, where He worked in the Santos Lab for seven months. His research activities are mainly focused on the development of innovative Drug delivery systems for anticancer application and, in particular, on the study of nanovesicles surface architecture.