

Received her Ph.D. degree in metallurgy engineering from Iran University of Science and Technology. Working as a postdoctoral researcher at Clausthal University of Technology, under supervision of Prof. Palkowski since September 2018. Focusing on metal forming processes and their simulation in different scales.