

Ferry Kienberger is Keysight Austria Country Manager and Keysight Labs Group leader on battery research since 2015. Prior to this he was Scientist at Agilent Technologies. His university education includes a PhD in 2002 on Technical Physics and the Habilitation in Nanotechnology in 2019, both at JKU Linz. The scientific track record includes 130+ scientific peer reviewed publications (including Nature Publishing Group, AAAS Science, PNAS USA, and IEEE Transactions) with an H-factor 41 and 5000+ citations; he supervised 10 PhD theses. He was coordinator and lead partner in 15+ EU projects for Keysight and Agilent, 7 national projects, 2 international projects (Economic Development Board EDB Singapore), and 3 metrology EU projects. He serves as a vice-chair for the Horizon Europe program and is a former member of OECD BIAC (Business and industry advisory council).